Make the most of your investment

► The power of compounding

Compounding can be a powerful tool in wealth creation. Reinvesting distributions can be one of the easiest and cheapest ways to increase your holdings over time. You're compounding your investment's growth by continually adding more units which, in turn, will generate distributions of their own.

Why not reinvest your half yearly distributions?

► The benefits of making it regular

Making regular contributions to your investment can both grow your investment and smooth the effects of market highs and lows.

Why not add a Regular Savings Plan to your investment? Establish one from as little as $50 per month.

Sharemarket commentary<sup>5</sup>

- ▶ Global sharemarkets enjoyed one of their strongest 12-month periods on record as economies around the world reopened
- ▶ The Australian sharemarket returned +28.5% for FY21, allowing the local sharemarket to post fresh record highs

Global sharemarkets enjoyed one of the strongest 12-month periods on record, as both central banks and governments around the world unleashed record levels of spending and unconventional policies to drive the economic recovery.

Domestically, the Australian sharemarket as measured by the S&P/ASX300 Index enjoyed its best financial year in over three decades, returning +28.5%, allowing the market to set fresh record highs in May. Australia's four major banks and the three major iron ore producers led the rally. With monetary and fiscal policy settings maintained at emergency levels while economies recover, inflationary concerns have begun to reappear, reflected in the global core inflation data, which reached quarter of a century high levels over the six months to June. The Australian sharemarket returned +8.5% in the June quarter, with sector performance generally strong across the board.

Portfolio performance & summary<sup>5</sup>

- ▶ IML continue to use volatility to top up in good quality companies they believe can do well over the next 3-5 years

The portfolio returned a solid +5.0%, although this was below the benchmark's strong return of +8.7%. IML's caution to many of the more speculative or cyclical sectors such as Technology, which rallied significantly, held back their relative performance. Over the June quarter, the Fund benefited from its holdings in good quality industrials such as Telstra, Tabcorp, Suncorp, and Steadfast Group.

Outlook<sup>5</sup>

Sharemarkets around the world, including Australia's, remain well supported as economic growth continues to rebound from COVID-19 lows and central banks continue to hold interest rates at low levels, despite increasing signs of rising inflationary expectations. The Australian sharemarket is now trading at close to record levels, with seemingly very little on the horizon to halt its ongoing rise. Having said this, IML continue to steer away from some of the riskier parts of the sharemarket, and remain focused on good quality companies which are well managed, where valuations remain justifiable, and which they firmly believe can do well over the next 3-5 years.

Footnotes

1. Fund performance figures are calculated before tax and after fees and costs; using withdrawal prices and assumes distributions are reinvested. Past performance is not an indication of future performance.
2. The benchmark for the Fund is the S&P/ASX 300 Industrial Accumulation Index.

Funds are rated for up to three time periods - three, five, and 10 years - and these ratings are combined to produce an overall rating. Funds with less than three years of history are not rated. Ratings are objective, based entirely on a mathematical evaluation of past performance. They're a useful tool for identifying funds worthy of further research, but shouldn't be considered buy or sell recommendations.
