Spotlight on local business.....

Sherwood Park Orchard

Nestled just off the highway, on the Old Princes Highway in Bunyip, Sherwood Park Orchard is a popular stop for locals and those travelling through the area to stop and purchase fresh local produce, as well as enjoying refreshments and coffee, homemade cakes/slices and other delicious local treats. Owned by locals Tara and Ross Cheesewright, Sherwood Park Orchard was first established in 1908 as an apple orchard. The orchard is still running today with an expansion of an additional 500 apple trees and 1,200 cherry trees. Since 2012 the orchard has been open to the public and Tara and Ross provide a "pick your own apples" experience. This opportunity has been well received by the public with the farm gate business continuing to grow every day. So if you haven't had the Sherwood Park Orchard experience yet, why not support a local business, pay a visit and find out what you've been missing!

Spotlight on local business.....

Edgley Designs

Edgley Designs was founded by Jane Edgley, a self confessed 'property tragic.' Based in Tonimbuk, Jane is a qualified Interior Designer and has extensive experience in renovating and property investment. Being a nurse in a past life and working in senior management positions, managing large Public Health Care Network departments, was a great grounding for Jane and the way she approaches her interior design business. As well as strong communication skills and an holistic approach, which enables her to drill down and find out exactly what her clients are looking for, she is able to effectively project manage jobs which will inevitably throw curve balls along the way.

With so many renovations shows on TV, Jane finds that too often people are inundated with an overwhelming choice of styles and options. This makes it really difficult for people to make decisions and they can often make mistakes and waste money. Jane's passion is to work closely with clients to help create their dream homes and help them determine what is perfect for them and their families. Jane's expertise means she can educate them to make the right choices and leave them feel like they have made the best possible decisions for their individual situation.

Jane firmly believes that interior designers should be accessible, which is why she offers a wide range of services, from 'virtual chats' through to full design and project management. Working closely with clients, trades or maybe your local builder, Jane often becomes her client's new best friend. Since COVID-19 has affected our lives, Jane finds herself doing lots of 'virtual' consultations with minimal site visits meaning that projects can continue with limited trades onsite...it's amazing what can be achieved virtually. So if it's third set of eyes you need to help make decisions (and save marriages) or a complete project management option, why not contact Jane. We're so lucky to have a business such as this on our own doorstep.

Spotlight on local support services.....

Cardinia Men's Recovery Learning Community

Created by Tom Vernham (pictured, on his farm in Bunyip) and Emma Rock, Cardinia Men's Recovery Learning Community is a community group that aims to support men by having real conversations about shared lived experiences and help them to improve their awareness and life skills.

By talking and developing life skills, Tom and Emma hope to help men reduce risks around anxiety depression and suicide in these challenging times.

Meetings are currently held online via Zoom to assist men in improving their life skills toolkit and plans are underway to continue sessions in a face to face setting post stage 4 lockdown.

Tom and Emma are currently working with Outlook to deliver a program next semester and hope to roll out more local support services in the future.

To find out more please contact Tom on 0492 888 731 or by email to tom.cmrlc@gmail.com. Information can also be found on the group's Facebook page and website.
